SUBMISSION DEADLINE: April 1, 2010

Check the category for which you are submitting the nomination:

___ Gordon Couling Award: For the exemplary restoration or adaptive re-use of a significant heritage structure or structures in the City of Guelph or Wellington County. Emphasis will alternate between residential and commercial projects with the 2010 award being given to recognize a residential project.

___ Stonehammer Award: To an individual tradesperson, architect, landscape architect or company for exemplary work in heritage restoration

Nomination Requirements

The application requires a description (500 words or less) of the project accompanied by a brief bio of the nominee(s). It must also include a set of colour prints or digital images which contain at least 2 views of the person/people nominated and/or a minimum of 5 views of the project nominated, including before and after shots, if appropriate. (Photographs must be labeled and a credit line for the images must be included)

The application should briefly describe:

- the people involved;
- the significance of the heritage site;
- the challenges faced and how they were overcome;
- the special strategies that were employed;
- the extent to which the project is completed;
- the impact of the project on the community.

Supporting information is welcome but not necessary.

In your text, please summarize why this proposed nomination has provincial value as a significant innovation, role model, exceptional commitment or as an inspiration to others, and why it qualifies for the specific award identified.

The ACO thanks you for your interest in participating in its Awards Program.

The undersigned gives the ACO permission to use the material submitted to promote the goals of the organization and to add appropriate material or make editorial changes.
